Reading First Phonics Book At Grade 2 .Q: How to set the rotation center point of a mesh in XNA? I'm currently using XNA 4.0 and I want to rotate an object about its center point. The rotation code is : ((Physics)Game.Game.Physics).RotationCenter = new Vector2(object.LocalCenter.X, object.LocalCenter.Y); ((Physics)Game.Game.Physics).Rotate(object.Transform.Rotation * Quaternion.FromToRotation(object.LocalCenter, Vector3.Transform(game.Game.Screen.WorldPosition, object.Transform) * _rotation * Vector3.Forward * _rotation)); The rotation _rotation is set by the keyboard. The problem that I have is that I want to have the object in the center of the screen (I don't want to rotate it about its center point, I want to rotate about the center of the screen). I need to know the screen width and height in order to set the object position. I can't find anything about the screen in XNA. Is there a way to do it with the content pipeline? A: You can use MyCamera.Viewport.Width and MyCamera.Viewport.Height to get the width and height of the Viewport. A: To solve this problem in XNA 4.0 I put the object with its center on the left/top margin of the screen. CJKR-FM CJKR-FM is a radio station broadcasting at 88.1 FM in Fort McMurray, Alberta.
